Learn the up and coming trade of historic window restoration from top professionals across America. Whether a homeowner, do-it-yourselfer, contractor or anyone in between, attendees can see the tools necessary to accomplish the tasks they face, from simple functionality issues to complete and complicated window making.

Spend the day meeting other historic preservation enthusiasts and professionals from around the country. It's an opportunity to get to know and learn from some of the best restoration professionals in the industry during a relaxed, interactive, hands on event. Our four course tracks offer a wide range of topics from an introduction to historic window to advance repairs.

The Hernando Historical Museum is one of the oldest structures in the County. It is a wood framed building that started out, in 1856, as a four-room house and then over the years three or four additions were added. The original owner/builder was John May. It is believed that the major addition and architectural details were added by Dr. Sheldon Stringer circa 1900.

The building was added to the National Register of Historic Places in 1997.
